

MUNICIPALITY OF VIVARO

It is the gravel that typifies this area in which the waters of the Cellina and Meduna rivers pursue each other to play hide and seek. Rare species of pre-historic plants, fruit of some seeds left on the ground by the retreat of the glaciers or by the passage of invading populations, give nature a characteristic vegetation and cutting-edge agriculture. Traces of its ancient history are revived in the antiquarium of Tesis, where archaeological remains have been gathered together.
